Strikebreakers Fall Far Behind Schedules in Operation of Tube Trains

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, July 6.—The nation's largest city struggled uncertainly to work today as the strike of 700 motormen of subway and elevated lines of the Interborough Transit company became at least partially effective and threatened to tie up the 361 miles of road the lines operate.

New York's workers, approximately 2,000,000 persons, were getting back to the job at the end of a holiday, which itself had seen the most terrific congestion of motor roads, railroad lines and terminals ever witnessed in the city, at best overburdened by the job of handling a population of 7,000,000, were taxed to the fullest in today's jam, as under drizzling rain, the trek to offices began.

No Disorder Reported
By 9 a. m., when the peak load of the morning was thrown on the transportation lines, traffic began piling up. Thousands were delayed, but no disorders of a serious nature were reported.

The congestion was the worst on the west side, where trains were operated by the emergency crews on a two-to-three-minute headway but at half speed that threw the load on the Sixth and Ninth avenue elevated, with the result that station platforms became congested, trains were crowded to the limit and delays were such that a trip, usually requiring less than an hour, took two hours or more.

Automobile traffic by 10 a. m. became sadly congested in the center of New York.

Cars pouring in from the ferries, buses and taxicabs, all running in increased numbers, so congested Broadway from City Hall park to the Battery that traffic came practically to a standstill.

Police Can't Break Jam
For 10 minutes at a time, it would not move. Mounted police and emergency traffic officers, at 10:30 a. m., had been unable to break the jam.

Fourth of July Bomb Kills Beach Man

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Gerald Coughlin, 29, a truck driver, 131 East Anaheim street, Long Beach, who had a hand blown off while celebrating Independence day yesterday, died today at the receiving hospital here.

Coughlin was visiting at the home of G. H. Brown. The men contrived a bomb and Coughlin essayed to light it. The fuse went out and he blew on it, with the result the bomb exploded in his hand.

The hand was amputated at the hospital, but Coughlin could not survive the shock.

ANDREWS TO STAY ON JOB AS DRY CZAR

Assistant Treasury Secretary Denies Report That He Will Resign His Office

New Rules on Prohibition Enforcement Are Issued; Staff Changes Are Made

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 6.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews intends to see his task of organizing the nation's prohibition enforcement army through, he told the United Press today, denying reports that he had resigned.

The dry czar made the categorical denial just before he left the capital for New York, whence he embarks for a month's work in Europe.

At the same time, he intimated strongly that he would quit early in September, by which time he will have the army of 4000 agents, just authorized by congress, selected and trained for work.

Andrews today sent out letters to all administrators demanding the highest qualities in the new agents employed and emphasizing that old agents are to be promoted to the higher-priced jobs just provided by congress, only if they are of "very high standards."

Skill and courtesy must mark the conduct of all agents, Andrews asserted.

Many college graduates are working for salaries less than the $2400 to $3600 paid to the special brewery alcohol and drug store agents, he pointed out, adding that "there is your opportunity to elevate the whole standard of your personnel and get men who have real experience and trained minds."

New Dry Regulations
Andrews, "dry czar," today announced three drastic liquor regulations.

Coolidges to Leave for Adirondacks

WASHINGTON, July 6.—President and Mrs. Coolidge will leave Washington late this afternoon for the Adirondacks, where this year's summer White House is situated. Their train will skirt New York, passing through New Jersey, and then go northward through New York state.

QUARRELS WITH WIFE AND THEN KILLS HIMSELF

After a quarrel with his wife, in which she refused to return and live with him, Lloyd Writsman, 32, employed at a used car supply house on Broadway, between Second and Third streets, killed himself with a pistol at 206 North Ross street, shortly after noon today. He was seated in a sedan when he placed a pistol to his head and fired, killing himself instantly. Mrs. Writsman, who was seated on the porch when the act occurred, collapsed.

Writsman's act followed a long series of quarrels, according to Miss Mabel Branch, sister of Mrs. Writsman. For several days, Writsman had harassed his wife with threats of suicide and murder if she did not return to him, the sister declared.

Mrs. Writsman refused all his entreaties because of the failure of previous efforts at domestic peace, her sister said, and told her husband for the last time today that she would not return to him.

The proprietress of the rooming house said that Writsman had telephoned many times during the last few days in an effort to communicate with his wife and that she became so alarmed that she thought of calling the police.

Writsman came to Santa Ana about five years ago from Kansas, according to his sister-in-law.

BIG INCREASE IN PROPERTY VALUE NOTED

Assessment Rolls, Turned Over to Board, Disclose Higher County Valuation
IS UP 5 1/2 MILLIONS

Bulk of Growth Is Carried By Oil Industry, Figures Given by Sleeper Reveal

CARRYING AN INCREASE OF $5,671,635 in the total assessed valuation of Orange county, compared with last year, the assessment rolls for 1926 were turned over today by County Assessor James Sleeper to the board of supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization. The rolls show a total valuation of $152,404,265 on non-operative property.

Nearly 1,000,000 of the increase is in the city of Santa Ana, while other cities of the county also showed gains. Fullerton revealing an increase of more than $500,000. Seal Beach, Huntington Beach and La Habra had totals below the 1925 assessment.

The Santa Ana increase of $991,960 will mean, incidentally, that there will be about $17.00 more money available from tax collections this year, officials estimated. The city's total valuation this year is $18,954,835, compared to $17,962,875 last year.

Fullerton Valuation Higher.
Fullerton's valuation this year is $13,133,435, compared to $12,591,380 for 1925. Anaheim this year had a valuation of $11,817,865 as compared to $7,749,465 for last year. For Orange, the figures are $5,280,790 for this year and $5,060,990 for last year. Huntington Beach had $6,462,260 last year and $6,179,230 this year. Newport Beach increased from $2,708,865 last year to $3,730,220 this year. Brea increased from $1,140,000 to $1,229,285. La Habra had $946,875 last year and $943,065 this year. Seal Beach dropped from $1,865,980 to $1,437,400, chiefly through the loss of assessment of the big Los Angeles Gas and Electric company plant there. The plant now being in operation it was assessed for the state this year.

The bulk of the increase in assessed valuation this year was carried by the oil industry, Assessor Sleeper said.

Sleeper today announced collections of personal property taxes for 1926 as $1,100,538, as compared to $1,083,209.25 for 1925.

Soldier exemptions this year amounted to $1,505,915, compared to $1,392,560 for 1925.

Statement to Taxpayers
In turning the assessment rolls over to the supervisors, who will sit as a board of equalization for the next two weeks to investigate any requested adjustments in the rolls, Assessor Sleeper made the following statement to taxpayers:

MARTIN DURKIN

Chicago's "shooting sheik," who, testifying today in an effort to save himself from the gallows, declared he thought Edwin C. Shanahan, the federal officer whom he killed, was a stick-up man, and that he shot him in self-defense.

DURKIN TELLS OF SHOOTING FEDERAL AGENT

(By United Press)
CHICAGO, July 6.—Martin Durkin told from the witness stand today his version of the shooting of Federal Agent Edwin C. Shanahan, a shooting for which he faces death on the gallows if convicted.

Durkin almost broke down as he told how he was "surprised" in a south side garage by a man "sticking a gun in my back and telling me to 'stick 'em up.'"

He insisted that he shot at the man without knowing who he was and in the belief that he was about to be robbed.

Just Driven Into Garage
"I had just driven my car into the garage," Durkin testified, "and was stooping over the running board looking into the motor to see where the trouble was."

"All of a sudden I was surprised by a man sticking a gun in my back and telling me to 'stick 'em up.' I thought it was a stick-up guy and so I asked him what it was all about."

A minute later I felt this dude reaching for my hip pocket where I had 200 bucks, and so I jumped. Just then two bullets ripped through my overcoat.

New Evidence in Mystery Of Kidnaping in Hands of Officials in Los Angeles

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Aimee Semple McPherson must appear before the Los Angeles county grand jury and tell the story of her disappearance and captivity in the hands of kidnapers.

District Attorney Asa Keyes, after a conference with Herman Cline, chief of detectives, and other investigators, announced at noon today that the case in its entirety would be laid before the grand jury next Thursday.

Subpoenas were issued for Mrs. McPherson, her mother, Mrs. Kennedy, and others who figured in the story of the evangelist's disappearance from the sea, on May 13, and her dramatic reappearance in the Mexican desert, on June 23.

On Theory Story Is True
The case is being brought before the jury on the theory that Mrs. McPherson's story is true, the district attorney said. Every angle of the case, however, including the beliefs of the evangelist's critics, is to be taken before the jurors, it was announced.

Reports from authorities in Douglas, Ariz., and Agua Prieta, Mex., where Mrs. McPherson made her dramatic reappearance five weeks after her supposed drowning in the surf, were said to have been the basis for the district attorney's sudden decision to take action in the case.

"Have you any evidence to support the story told by Mrs. McPherson that she was kidnapped?" Keyes asked Cline.

Cline replied: "I have heard his own story and a number of letters. As a matter of fact, I have letters 'identifying' at least a dozen 'Roses' and 'Stevens.'"

Others to be Summoned
Miss Emma Schaffer, the evangelist's secretary; Mrs. Blanche O. Rice, mail clerk at Angelus temple; J. W. Arthur, financial secretary; Mrs. McPherson's private cook, the telephone girls at the tabernacle; and Mrs. McPherson's two children, Roberta Semple and Rolf McPherson, were among those for whom subpoenas were issued.

The fire in the Tule river canyon is expected to be brought under control in 48 hours.

13 HURT, NONE SERIOUSLY, IN CAR ACCIDENTS

With traffic in Orange county heavier than it has been since 1913 according to state traffic officers, highway accidents were unusually few for the three-day period over the Fourth of July, a check, today of hospital and accident reports, revealed.

Thirteen persons were reported hurt in seven automobile accidents, none seriously. Most of the injured were given first aid treatment and taken to their homes. A few remain in Orange county hospitals today, but these are "expected to return home late today or tomorrow."

Officers reported at least 30 other accidents, in which no one was injured.

Traffic in Santa Ana was unusually heavy yesterday afternoon, when the procession from the beaches to Los Angeles and other cities north of here began, and as many as 2000 automobiles per hour passed Fourth and Main streets during the afternoon and early evening.

Many persons, not wanting to drive in the heavy traffic of yesterday, waited until today to fold up their beach tents and move back to the city.

Two Are Arrested
Two arrests were made as the result of an accident on the Newport-Huntington Beach section of the coast highway, in which seven persons were injured. All were taken to hospitals.

John N. Lewis, 21, an Indian, residing at 809 Molina street, Los Angeles, and said to be the adopted son of a prominent Long Beach family, was arrested by State Officers Meyer and Aldrich, after the automobile, in which he was riding, is said to have collided head-on with a machine driven by Bud Welsh, 613 East Orange Grove, Pasadena.

Six persons in the Welsh machine received severe cuts and bruises. Two were taken to Newport, two to Huntington Beach and two were brought to the Santa Ana Valley hospital. They were Bud Welsh, Al Mulder, Mildred Witchurch, Freda Vaughn, Lester Pheland and Betty Meisenholder.

Lester Pheland was arrested by deputy sheriffs and was held here for investigation following the accident, but later was allowed to return to his home. Officers said no charge would be lodged against him.

Lewis was booked in the county jail on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, but the arresting officers said today that the charge probably would be reduced to reckless driving. He probably will be tried at Newport Beach. Lewis was thrown approximately 15 feet from his machine in the collision it was said. He received a broken ankle.

Officers Meyer and Aldrich were parked near the scene and witnessed the accident.

Thrown from Car
A companion of Lewis also was thrown from the automobile, but escaped injury. His name was not learned.

Mrs. Lucille Hudson, San Diego, is in the Santa Ana Valley hospital suffering from injuries to her chest and a broken wrist as a result of a collision on the San Diego highway, south of Irvine Station, late yesterday. She was driving and was accompanied by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hune, of El Centro. She was brought to the hospital by officers of the state traffic department and probably will be released today to her home.

No report, as to who was driving the other machine has been made. The Hunes were not injured. Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Baker and son, Elmo, of Corona, were brought to the Santa Ana Valley hospital last night, suffering from minor injuries received in an automobile accident in the Santa Ana canyon. Details of the accident were not learned.

Mrs. Baker suffered injuries to her back, but her condition is not serious. The father and son received minor cuts and bruises. All probably will be removed to their home today, nurses at the hospital said.

John Kiehlhorn, 213 North Sunset boulevard, Redondo, was slightly injured Saturday, when the automobile which he was driving collided with a machine driven by E. J. Bryan, 374 Pacific boulevard, Huntington Park, at the intersection of the Atwater road and North street, Anaheim, according to a report at the sheriff's office.

Six Escape Unhurt
Four other persons in the Kiehlhorn machine were not injured and two persons in the Bryan car escaped unhurt.

J. S. Findlay, 412 North Sabina street, Anaheim, narrowly escaped injury when he drove his car into a box car, standing on a track in Anaheim, on July 4. Findlay's machine was a complete wreck, but he escaped without a scratch, it was reported.

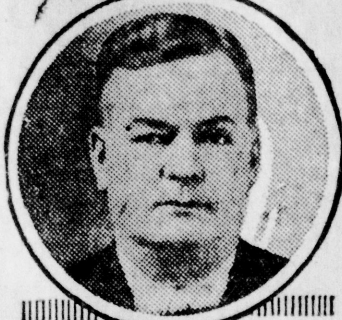

Francis Shaw, 269 West Seventh street, Claremont, was slightly cut and bruised Sunday, when the automobile which he was driving collided with a machine said to have been driven by S. W. McElroy, Anaheim, according to a report made here. The accident occurred west of Anaheim on Lincoln boulevard.

Two other persons in the Shaw machine escaped without injury.

GAS KILLS RATS
WASHINGTON, July 6.—War time gas, pumped into the army storehouses at Duncan Field, Tex., have cleaned up the rats there and will save the army about $30,000 a year, according to a recent war department announcement. The rats had infested buildings at Duncan Field that contained about $70,000 worth of army stores. The hydrocyanic gas cleaned them out in 48 hours.

TESTIMONY TO BE REFERRED TO PROSECUTOR

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The senate primary investigating committee today decided to cite the testimony given that body by Magistrate Francis X. O'Connor, Philadelphia, to the district attorney of the District of Columbia, "for what steps he deems proper in conformity with the law."

Senator King, Democrat, Utah, announced after an executive session of the committee, that the testimony of Senator George Wharton Pepper and three Philadelphia newspapermen, contradicting O'Connor's, also would be cited to the prosecuting attorney.

O'Connor had denied twice to the committee that he had said during the Pennsylvania primary campaign that the Vire organization had offered him $75,000 and then $150,000 with other political inducements to have him desert Pepper for the Vire camp.

Pepper and the newspapermen said O'Connor had told them such a story.

The committee also decided in executive sessions to instruct the sergeant-at-arms of the senate to go to Atlantic City and require Representative John Morin, Republican, Pennsylvania, to come before the committee.

Morin had wired King Sunday that he had to return to his summer home in Atlantic City. King wired him to return immediately, but Morin was not present when the session opened this morning.

In executive session, the committee adopted a resolution by La Follette, which will permit any member of the committee to act for the committee.

This will enable continuance of the hearings here after today, although at least two of the members must leave.

Representative John Philip Hill, Republican, Maryland, denied to the committee, when the hearing was reopened after the executive session, that he had ever received compensation from the liquor interests or anyone else for speeches he made against prohibition.

Hill said the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment had paid his railroad fare in kind when he went out on speaking tours.

Once he received $75 for an article on prohibition in Current History, a magazine, and again $25 for an article in the North American Review, he said.

This money he used, he added, to send out anti-prohibition speeches he made in congress.

BURNS FATAL TO WOMAN IN STOVE BLAST

A verdict of death by accident was returned by a coroner's jury in the case of Mrs. Florence McCulloch, 40, wife of Clifford E. McCulloch, 833 South Philadelphia street, Anaheim, who was burned to death Sunday, when a gasoline stove, on which she was cooking, exploded, while she and her daughter and mother were picnicking on the sands at Huntington Beach.

Mrs. McCulloch died in the Santa Ana Valley hospital at 6:30 a. m., yesterday.

Camp Stove Explodes

With her mother, Mrs. William Cole, of Hecla, S. D., and daughter, Fern, 12, Mrs. McCulloch went to Huntington Beach to spend the holidays. While cooking the noon day meal, Sunday, and while her mother and her daughter looked on, the stove suddenly exploded, hurling flaming fuel over the woman.

She was rushed to the hospital here by other campers.

McCulloch, the husband, who is business agent for the Anaheim Carpenters' union, was at home when the accident occurred.

Well Known in Anaheim

Mrs. McCulloch was well known as one of Anaheim's social leaders. She was a teacher in the Anaheim Central school and also a music instructor. She was a prominent member of the First Christian church choir in Anaheim.

Surviving her, besides her husband, mother and daughter, is a brother, Ben A. Cole, Anaheim, who is seriously ill, and two sisters, Mrs. Vera L. Leigh, Anaheim, and Mrs. Ray Walter, of Hecla, S. D. Mrs. William Cole, the mother, had recently arrived in Southern California from South Dakota, to visit her daughter.

Funeral services will be held in the Huddle Funeral parlors at 10 a. m. tomorrow, with the Rev. Otto Williams, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating. Burial will be made in the Central Memorial park. Special music will be sung by the First Christian church choir.

Eightieth Birthday Is Celebrated at Family Reunion

Yesterday in his honor at the Laguna Beach home of another son, G. W. Prior.

The octogenarian, accompanied by his wife, a very few years younger than himself, negotiated the traffic with the ease and skill of a man two-score years younger. They spent Sunday and Sunday night very quietly in the Prior home and celebrated the patriotic birthday yesterday when the whole country joined in celebrating the real Fourth of July celebration.

At Laguna Beach they were joined by the other members of the family, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Prior of Long Beach and their interesting children, Erwin, William, Marjorie, Margaret and Betty Ann; Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Prior of Riverside and their daughter and son, Carol and Willis; Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Prior of Garden Grove and their sons, Robert and Wayne, and the G. Earl Prior of Redlands with their little daughters, Patsy and Dorothy. G. Earl Prior is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Prior of Laguna, and his young daughters are great-grandchildren of the honored guest. To complete the party were the hosts and Mrs. Calvin Prior with their sextette of young people, the twins, Hubert and Herbert, Gertrude, Royce, Thelma and Billy.

A picnic dinner which featured all the delicacies of the season, was employed at mid-day and in the afternoon, the delightful features of the evening were the favorites sung by the four brothers who in their college days at University of Southern California in 1904, 5 and 6, constituted the "Prior Quartette." They were H. A. Prior, G. R. Prior, P. H. Prior and C. E. Prior. The latter is one of the popular vocalists of Santa Ana.

Municipal Band Will Dine at St. Ann's

ROBARELY no more interesting innovation has been introduced at St. Ann's Inn under the effective administration of Robert L. Bisby as manager, than the Friday night special dinners when guests are served a menu which, in quality and variety, surpasses anything to be obtained anywhere in this section of the state.

In anticipation of the event of this week, an interesting announcement has been made by Mr. Bisby to the effect that members of the Santa Ana Municipal band will dine at the popular place this coming Friday night, and their presence bids fair to attract an unusual crowd to enjoy the privilege of informal dancing to the Orthophonic house installation has added to the charm of "Dinner at the Inn."

The band boys will be guests of the Inn management and as a return courtesy will play several numbers for the entertainment of other diners. Dinner will be at the usual hour, from 6 to 8 o'clock, and an unusually big crowd is anticipated by the management. Those who plan to be present and share the double pleasure of the unusual menu at an equally unusual price, and the musical program to be offered by the Municipal band, should telephone their dinner reservations to 626 not later than noon on Friday.

Miss Faustina Lucero Writes of Arrival In Philadelphia

UNTLESS friends of Miss Faustina Lucero, who have watched her progress in the art of the dance with so much interest and especially when she was chosen by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to be "Miss California" at the Sesqui-Centennial in Philadelphia, will be further interested in knowing that she has reached Philadelphia after an unusually pleasant trip across the continent in a special Pullman.

Every evening on the journey, Miss Lucero and Miss "Babe" Daniels, popular Anaheim vocalist who also is to entertain at the big exposition, gave a short recital for their fellow-travelers, and aided considerably in overcoming any tedium of the trip.

At every stop, they were met by newspaper reporters and in Chicago, each of the daily papers had a representative and camera man. They had a three-hour wait there and were taken for a drive over the city by Fred Alborn, former Anaheim post master and now connected with the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

They reached Philadelphia on the morning of June 30 and were taken at once to the Hotel Adelphi, the finest hotel in the Quaker City. At the exposition grounds, they found the California exhibit one of the few actually completed, and, according to their opinions, quite the most attractive of them all. It is Spanish in style, with balconies and a patio and to the California girls, typified everything that they loved as "Home."

"As nice as everything is" comments Miss Lucero in a letter to friends, "There is nothing like California, and even the train we traveled on and the people that came from California with us, seemed nicer in every way and so much cleaner than anything in the east."

Miss Lucero plans to take pictures of the different exhibits, and especially that of her own state, to send to her friends. She will be in Philadelphia throughout the term of the Sesqui-Centennial and will appear regularly on the programs with her wide variety of Spanish dances. The talented young danseuse took with her, a large number of lovely costumes, ranging in variety from the brilliant, full-skirted silken gowns in which she does the tango and "La Jota," Spanish dances; "Jarabe Tapatio," a Mexican dance; and other typical numbers and the smart little velvet and satin tunic with its red satin-lined cloak in which she portrays in pantomime and graceful steps, the accomplishments of the bull fight, the famous "Cielo Andaluse."

Annual Family Party Held at Ranch Home

Twenty-three members of the family were present yesterday at the annual Fourth of July reunion of relatives of Mrs. Nellie Young, West Orange. The family groups gathered at Mrs. Young's ranch early in the forenoon and remained until late in the evening, the day being featured by a sumptuous repast spread on tables under walnut and umbrella trees in the back yard of the country home and with fireworks in the evening.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Lacy, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Mecham, Mrs. Lottie Grovland and son, Franklin, Mrs. F. J. Parsons and son, Joe; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Raney and son and daughter, Victor and Laverah; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fine and daughters, Margaret and Helen; Mrs. Saunders, Miss Ruth Carnsey, Horace Fine and daughters, Charlotte and Cleora; Mrs. Ella Wolcott and Mrs. Young.

YOUTH ATTACKED BY HIGHWAYMEN

Knox Finley today had sufficiently recovered from assault, yesterday, by highway robbers, while he was on his way to Camp Osceola, Orange county, Y. M. C. A. camp in the San Bernardino mountains, to remove all fears that he might be seriously injured. He is in a hospital in Redlands.

That was the word received today from his father, Col. S. H. Finley, Orange county supervisor who went to Redlands. The robbery occurred on the road between Barton Ferry and Seven Oaks.

Officers have gone to the scene of the assault in the hope of securing clues leading to the identity of the highwaymen. Colonel Finley believes his son was attacked by a man whom he had offered a ride in his car.

Finley is in charge of the Y. M. C. A. camp, which is located in the Upper Santa Ana canyon, near Seven Oaks. He was on his way there to make arrangements for the summer outing of the Santa Ana "Y" boys. It was learned from the headquarters here.

The robbers secured $10, according to a report to the sheriff's office in San Bernardino.

July Festivities at S. A. Country Club

ID-SUMMER activities at Santa Ana Country club continue quite as alluring to members as did the brilliant gaieties of the spring season or even those more formal affairs of late winter. For the very informality of the inconsequential gaiety, make the various dancing and card parties vie in interest with the popular beach sports of surf and bay swimming and the lure of cabin life in the cool mountain resorts.

Among the pleasures planned by T. F. McGilvray, capable manager at the clubhouse, none promises keener enjoyment than the junior carnival dance slated for Friday night, July 9. At this time youth will reign supreme, for the young people of the families of members will be entertained, together with a few of their guests. The latter will be called upon to register and may have guest privileges upon invitation of regular members and the payment of a small sum. Dancing will be from 8 until 11:30 o'clock and refreshments will be served at 10 o'clock.

On the following Wednesday afternoon (July 14) the usual bridge party will be held with beautiful prizes offered for the most proficient among the club's feminine members. A grill room luncheon will be served prior to the afternoon's playing, for those who wish to motor down early. Luncheon hours will be from 12:30 to 2 o'clock. Really beautiful prizes will be offered and the usual friendly afternoon is anticipated.

Bridge is again scheduled for the night of July 30 when both men and women will enter the spirited contest. Punch will be served during the interval of playing, and again non-member guests be registered at the office. Well selected prizes will be offered in each division.

July will be marked by but the one dancing party for adult members, an event scheduled for Friday, July 23, when informality will be marked. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and will be enlivened by the best orchestra imaginable. Punch will be served throughout the evening and every effort will be made to repeat the tremendous success of the June informal.

Every Thursday of the month will continue to be known as ladies' golf day and interest in the game being particularly marked among feminine members.

Wedding of Saturday Surprises Friends

Bidding farewell to her associates in the county recorder's office, Saturday afternoon when she departed for a two weeks' vacation, Miss Ada H. Brown failed to inform them that she was embarking on the important voyage of matrimony, but such was the case and that evening at 8 o'clock she and M. S. Robinson took their wedding vows at the First Christian parsonage before the Rev. F. T. Porter.

H. M. Head was the only witness to the ceremony which was followed by the departure of the happy pair for Catalina where the honeymoon is now being enjoyed.

Mr. Robinson, an electric battery dealer at 111 Spurgeon street, is also president of the Orange County Automobile Trades association.

HOLIDAY QUIET ONE IN ORANGE COUNTY

Outside of an occasional noise by young boys who couldn't resist the temptation to celebrate the Fourth of July with a few "out-law" firecrackers, the holiday was one of peace and quiet in Santa Ana, and, with the exception of the beaches, that condition prevailed throughout the county, it was indicated today.

The few firecrackers set off by mischievous boys in Santa Ana caused a great deal of neck-cracking on the part of motorists, fearful of tire blowouts.

Outside of a few burned fingers, there were no casualties of any importance as the result of the holiday celebration, it was said. Bathers, however, found it inconvenient to be suddenly startled out of their reveries by firecrackers exploding a few inches from their recumbent bodies. In almost every instance of this sort, it was declared, that the firecrackers were and that the bathers removed themselves to a spot sufficiently distant from the scene of the pyrotechnics to prevent further searing of already sun burned epidermis.

Club Members Enjoy Lively Contests And Chat

HE friendly hospitality of the Jesse Elliott home, 514 West Third street, was extended late last week to members of the Innomadina club, asked by Mrs. Elliott, to spend an exciting afternoon in games and lively chat.

"Nuts to crack" and a memory contest were the outstanding events, and winners, Mrs. Joe Ryan and Mrs. James Clark, received pretty flower bowls while the losers, Mrs. I. D. Annis and Mrs. W. S. Chandler, were consoled with decorated pencils.

At the refreshment hour, Mrs. Elliott seated her guests at an extremely attractive table where the daintiest of Colonial maids, wearing pastel-tinted period gowns, danced around a Maypole. The dolls formed favors and at each place was a nut cup to correspond in color with the doll at that place. Ribbon sandwiches with fruit salad, iced tea, pineapple ice cream and angel food cake were served.

Innomadina members present included Mesdames I. D. Annis, W. S. Chandler, W. L. Moore, James Clark, Joe Ryan, George Klever, J. H. Tompkins, Ella Webster and the hostess, while guests were Mrs. Elizabeth Birchhead, Mrs. W. Robert Birchhead, Mrs. J. R. Grilland, and Masters Joe Ryan Jr. and Max Elliott.

During the afternoon, the members paused in their social activities to pay tribute to one they have "loved and lost awhile," Mrs. C. T. Wells, whose death brought sadness to the hearts of the members of the club in which she was always so active since its organization.

Meetings will lapse during July and August, the next gathering to be in September with Mrs. Chandler.

Many Friends Gather To Enjoy Birthday

Numbers of warm friends and relatives gathered at the Will Harris home on West Bishop street Friday afternoon in honor of the eighty-ninth birthday of James Peters. Chief among the gifts was the huge birthday cake presented by Mrs. Ella Rogers of Los Angeles. On the cake was the date and age of the honoree, worked out in gay colors.

Guests were Mrs. Ella Rogers, Matt Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Hervey, Mr. and Mrs. Lamont, Mary Ellen Lamont, Thomas Lamont, Harry Lamont of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. James Burst of La Mirada; Mr. and Mrs. Layton, Glen Layton, Mrs. Head, Mrs. John Morris, Mrs. J. W. Allen, Miss Ruth Breckenridge, Miss Virginia Lesson, Miss Adeline Thornton, Mrs. S. P. Bates, Mrs. W. H. Whitehead, Miss Katherine Whitehead, W. H. Alford, Charles Morris, Dr. J. P. Many of the guests were friends of nearly half a century, and the reunion was a happy one. During the afternoon, refreshments of sandwiches, cake, ice cream, coffee and tea were served.

HERE Is Your Chance!

If your back aches, if your kidneys, bowels, liver, heart, lungs or stomach are not functioning properly, if you have rheumatism, headaches, neuritis, cramps, or any other bodily disorder, here is your opportunity to learn the exact cause of your trouble without cost to you in any way. Here is your chance to obtain a Free X-Ray examination absolutely without obligation on your part.

It is a known fact that all the functional power of the human body is generated in the brain and transmitted from the brain to the body by means of the nervous system, the main cable of which is the spinal cord. This cord extends from the base of the brain to the tip of the spine, and in its downward course gives off 31 branches or 31 pairs of spinal nerves. The spinal nerve fibers branch and rebranch until they divide into thousands of tiny nerves much smaller than a strand of hair, and in this way lead to every part of the body. So the path of nerve energy is from the brain to the spine, and then out over the nerves to supply force to the whole human system.

If one or more spinal nerves are pinched either where they leave the brain or where they leave the spine the result is a weakness in the organ or part that should be supplied by the nerves involved. It is by removing this pressure that health and a normal body have been restored to hundreds of sufferers. Why not you? POISON BOOZE, DRUNK IN CELEBRATING FOURTH, IS BLAMED FOR MAN'S DEATH

Poison liquor, drunk while he was celebrating the Fourth of July, is thought to have been the cause of the death of Jack O'Brien, 42, employee of the Irvine ranch, who died at the Orange County hospital, at 10:50 p. m., yesterday, 12 hours after he was found unconscious in a Huntington Beach hotel.

O'Brien was found in his room in the Ocean Wave hotel, by the proprietress, Mrs. Ida M. Ewing, whose attention was directed to the room when she heard O'Brien's body fall from the bed to the floor.

She called Dr. R. E. Hawes, who, with the assistance of Officer John Stanton, of the Huntington Beach police, removed the man to the Orange County hospital. According to Stanton, O'Brien did not utter a word after being found in the hotel. He was violently ill from the time Stanton saw him, the officer said.

Dr. Harry Zaiser, of the hospital, as well as Stanton and Dr. Hawes, said that, in their opinion, death was caused from drinking poisoned liquor. The Huntington Beach police department today was making an effort to locate the source of the liquor.

It was learned today that O'Brien recently had been paid by the Irvine company for labor. He is said to be survived by relatives in Montana.

No time has been set for the inquest, Coroner Charles Brown said early today. Brown is conducting an investigation. The body is at the Smith and Tuttle undertakings parlors.

PAIR ARRESTED ON DIFFERENT CHARGES

Following the finding of two quarts of alleged whiskey in a machine occupied by Fred Larson, 32, 2267 First street, San Diego, and Mrs. S. Narlin, 2338 Howard avenue, San Diego, on July 4, Larson was arrested, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor, and Mrs. Narlin was given a ticket charging her with reckless driving, according to state officers.

The arrests were made on the state highway, south of San Juan Capistrano. Mrs. Narlin was driving at the time, it was said. She is scheduled to appear in Justice John Landell's court next Friday to answer to the reckless driving charge.

Larson furnished cash bail of $250 to insure his appearance in San Juan Capistrano justice court on the liquor charge.

PAIR FACE TRIAL ON BOOZE CHARGE

Joe Argot, 38, and Ray Richards, 32, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor, will be tried in the Laguna Beach justice court this afternoon, according to sheriff's officers.

The two men were arrested yesterday by Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy sheriff, and Deputy Sheriff Joe Scott, after approximately five gallons of alleged whiskey had been found in their automobile by the officers, according to a sheriff's office report.

The liquor was contained in glass jars and in a small barrel, McClellan said.

Both men live in Los Angeles.

RECKLESS DRIVER DRAWS $50 FINE

Joseph Francisco, 33, 1355 South Hill street, Los Angeles, arrested on July 4 on a reckless driving charge, yesterday was fined $50 in Justice John Landell's court, San Juan Capistrano. He paid the fine today.

Mrs. Joseph Francisco, 28, arrested at the same time and charged with drunkenness, was taken to San Juan Capistrano today for trial.

Ray Bradfield and George Stinson, state officers, made the arrests.

HATE IS SEEN AS PROMPTER OF MURDERER

With a jagged bullet hole in the top of his head and three other bullet wounds in his right leg, the body of Francisco Vasquez, 28, El Modena orange picker, was found at 6 o'clock last night on a road, one and one-half miles north of El Modena.

Evidence of a struggle in the road near where the body was found, indicated that Vasquez fought for his life and probably was murdered by a third person. When the body was found, a six-inch dagger was clenched in the right hand. A sheath for the knife was found several feet from the body.

No Blood on Knife
There was no blood on the knife. Vasquez' body was found by A. F. Mendelhall, of the Mendelhall ranch, who notified George Bartley, constable at El Modena. He, in turn, notified the sheriff's office.

The body was located by Coroner Brown and Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy sheriff, and removed to the Gillogly Funeral parlors, Orange.

From the course taken by the bullet, which penetrated the man's skull, officers said today that they were of the opinion that Vasquez was shot from above, probably from the running board of a machine.

The bullets which entered the man's right leg, and which would not have caused death, also took a downward course. These wounds were in the upper part of the leg, near the thigh. The bullets first penetrated the man's pockets.

Evidence pointed to the fact that the body was not molested after the man was shot down. The fact that the knife was clenched in one hand and that the man's pockets were not rifled, led officers to believe that he was murdered because of hatred, possibly by persons who knew him well.

Pictures of Women
Several pictures of women, found in the man's pockets, gave sheriff's officers their best clue. McClellan said today that he was searching for a Mexican, whose name is being withheld, as the murderer.

McClellan said that, in his opinion, a woman was the cause of the killing. He is working today on the clue, which, he said, probably will lead to an arrest before tonight.

Coroner Charles Brown said today that an inquest over the body of Vasquez would be held from the Gillogly funeral parlors, Orange, at 10 a. m., tomorrow.

McClellan said that the man had been dead approximately two hours when officers were notified.

RIVERSIDE MAN DISAPPEARS AT LAGUNA BEACH

An intensive land and water search was instigated this morning for Charles Baber, 45, an engineer with the Southern Sierras Power company, Riverside, when his sleeping bag and his shoes were found on the beach at Diver's cove, Laguna Beach.

The theory that Baber was drowned is held by the majority of the searchers, who point out that tracks, presumably made by Baber, were found leading to the sea.

Baber came to Laguna Beach Sunday with the expectation of spending the night there. Unable to secure a room in any of the hotels or resorts, he appealed to the R. L. Eastmans, who have a cottage on the beach. The Eastman home was filled with guests and the engineer was offered the use of the garage. While he used the garage to change into his bathing suit, he announced his intention of taking his sleeping bag and sleeping on the beach.

When Baber failed to appear for breakfast, the Eastmans began an investigation, resulting in the finding of the sleeping bag and the shoes.

Women Know

In dress, in entertaining, in social contacts and in the furnishing of the home, good taste is every woman's ambition.

She knows that it means to feel that her furniture needs no apologies, and she also knows the feeling of social assurance that goes with good furniture.

Chandler's are especially equipped to serve the demands of the woman who wishes to select furniture of good taste and sound quality within the limits of reasonable expenditure.

CONFIDENCE Our Biggest Asset

The success of Chandler's has been built by the confidence of the friends and patrons we serve.

That Chandler's is known as Headquarters for Good Furniture at the lowest possible prices lies as much in the furniture we reject as in the furniture we exhibit.

Everlasting watchfulness against mere "surface quality" is an important fundamental of this business.

You may be sure, therefore, that whatever you buy here will be of honest construction, in good taste and as low-priced as you yourself can afford to have it.

"Yours for Quality—but Always at the Lowest Possible Price"

FARM BUREAU IN FINAL DRIVE WITH PETITIONS

The Orange County Farm bureau today sent its shock troops into the field in the final drive for signatures to put the modified federal plan for state legislative reapportionment upon the ballot in November.

The shock troops were represented by paid solicitors, who will interview thousands of registered voters before Monday evening in an effort to secure approximately 3500 indorsements of the proposal in this county, according to A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager of the farm bureau, and Earl Campbell, of Orange, chairman of the farm reapportionment committee.

85 Petitions Circulated Eighty-five petitions are now in circulation in the county, by which registered voters may approve the proposition, it was said. Each petition represents more than 100 names. In order to have the measure go on the ballot, 78,000 signatures are required. About 75 per cent of the names on a petition are regularly registered voters, it was declared, and therefore those backing the name drive over the state seek to secure more than 100,000 indorsements, according to Campbell.

The farm center officers over the county are giving splendid cooperation in the campaign, it was said, and a large number of signatures are counted upon for luncheon service and civic club members.

Campbell took occasion today to point out that the so-called "All Parties Reapportionment committee" of Los Angeles is not supporting the modified federal plan advanced by the agricultural interests of the state. Statements sent out are for the purpose of misleading the voters in this respect, he claimed.

Regarding the All Parties Reapportionment committee, Campbell said:

Nothing in Common
"The plans of the All Parties Reapportionment committee has nothing in common with the farm bureau reapportionment plans.

"As a matter of fact, the plans of this committee propose just what we wish to avoid and that is constitutional reapportionment, which would give us a top-sided legislature, controlled entirely by the metropolitan area. The farm bureau wants to see a legislature representing the whole of California and toward that end our measure calls for a senator from each of the Southern California counties and joining the smaller counties to the north in senatorial districts. This method will give us a balanced legislature for all time to come.

"This circular from the All Parties Reapportionment committee is as full of high sounding phrases as the name of the committee appears deceptive. After we wade through all the references to the governor and city managers, we discover that the committee proposes the same plan that the metropolitan area has been promoting, because it gives them 75 per cent control of the legislature. The reference to the governor and mayors has nothing to do with the plan and should not be taken as an indorsement of the plan by these parties."

WEATHER FAVORS GROWING CROPS

Weather conditions in California during June were favorable for all growing crops, and the grain, hay and fruit yields will be very satisfactory in most localities, according to the condensed farm report issued by J. P. Jarrell, agricultural manager of the Santa Fe system, for July 1.

For the 12 states traversed by the system, conditions generally are good. Kansas is garnering its bumper wheat crop, estimated at 140,000,000 bushels, compared with 74,300,000 last year. Oklahoma will harvest 65,000,000 bushels more, according to estimate, while the yield in Texas will be from 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 bushels.

Growing crops, particularly cotton, are good in Arizona. The largest acreage of melons yet planted now is moving to market. Range conditions seldom have been so satisfactory for cattle, sheep and all livestock. New Mexico conditions also are very favorable.

S. A. REPRESENTED AT GUILD SESSION

Santa Ana was represented at the annual convention of the World Wide guild, held at Pacific Palisades, three miles west of Santa Monica, by the Misses Grace Elliot, Helen Winchell, Iva Minter and E. Robinson. More than 150 young women were present at the sessions, which were held on the institute grounds, in the lower part of beautiful Temescal canyon.

The Guild convention ended July 4, and the fifth annual Pacific Palisades summer school and assembly opened yesterday. While at Pacific Palisades, the World Wide guild had opportunity to view the immense development under way in the new seaside community, which, although less than five years old, now covers an area of three and one-third square miles and has 300 new homes, more than 20 miles of street paving and facilities in the way of lodges, cabins and dining halls accommodating 1500 summer visitors.

Stage and Screen

WEST COAST-WALKER

"Oh! What a Nurse!" which closes tonight at the West Coast-Walker, was written by Robert E. Sherwood, the motion picture critic and editor of "Life," in collaboration with Bertram Bloch. They have evolved a gorgeous, gay and rollicking story, with Syd Chaplin always in the thick of the ridiculous mixups with bootleggers, a runaway heiress and a scheming matchmaker. Not to mention being in hot water with the editor of the newspaper, on which Syd is a reporter.

On the stage, Rene Riano is the highest priced eccentric code-dienne Fanchon and Marco have ever brought to California. In London she was known as the girl with the India rubber legs. London papers declared she was the funniest comedy actress that ever crossed the Atlantic.

Miss Riano does not depend on her looks but upon the general drollery and grotesque steps of her dancing. There is humor in her voice, face and feet and the laughter in her legs will give sheer delight to the audience. Her power of facial expression is extraordinary.

Miss Riano is the girl that created the comedy role in "Honey Boy" has been featured in all Irving Berlin's Music Box reviews on Broadway. In Australia an insurance company insured her legs for 20,000 pounds sterling and manufacturers put huge ads extolling her legs in the papers.

Syd Chaplin who has leading role in "Oh, What a Nurse," picture now at the West Coast-Walker theater.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

Alfred A. Santell, the brilliant young director who has given the screen "Classified" and "Blue-Headed Seven Wives," has made another winner. It is "Sweet Daddies," now at the Yost Broadway. The new production is one glorious laugh from beginning to end, with thrills and love interest and a few other things thrown in for good measure.

"Sweet Daddies" is a tale of love and molasses—of a queer partnership between a wealthy son of Abraham and a shrewd son of Erin—and betrays one of the most humorous surprise endings we have ever witnessed.

Jobyna Ralston, as the ingenue, is both talented and beautiful, and debonair Jack Mulhall, who will soon rate stardom in his own name, gives a superlative performance.

PRINCESS THEATER

The Barbary Coast before the quake in San Francisco is vividly portrayed in the screen production "Camille of the Barbary Coast," now showing at the Princess theater. "Camille" in the picture is a woman of the dance halls, while the boy, Owen Moore, son of a banker, finds himself gradually being pushed further and further into the mire. The plot deals with their redemption—the attempt of each to make good for the sake of the other.

YOST THEATER

Another excellent play is now offered by Manager Yost of the Yost theater, bearing the title of "Straight Crooks," the popular American comedy drama by H. W. and S. T. Treitel.

Miss Fay Life and Harry Schumm, the clever leading woman and leading man of this organization, will have the best opportunity of their career in this play.

From the opening line of "Straight Crooks" until the final curtain in the third act there is sustained interest. Laughs, tears, smiles and sighs are in every scene. Rural New England rubs elbows with sophisticated New York and the contact is beneficial to both.

The rapid fire comedy line in "Straight Crooks" hits the "bull's-eye" at laughter throughout the play. Its homely philosophy has a "mental" appeal to all who love human nature—for the characters are true to life in every respect.

The play also possesses a love story that will gladden the hearts of the boy or girl in their "teens" and cause an extra throb for the older members of the family.

FARNSWORTH, SMITH S. A. GOLF FINALISTS

BILLY EVANS
Says

HAGEN'S SPORTSMANSHIP

In certain quarters they are trying to detract from Walter Hagen's brilliant victory over Abe Mitchell by insisting that he resorted to unsportsmanlike tactics. The question as to Hagen's sportsmanship hinges on the matter of being 20 minutes late to start the final 36 holes of the match.

Did Hagen try to get Mitchell's "goat" by being late, thereby keeping the sensitive and high-strung Mitchell waiting?

Regardless of whether Hagen purposely resorted to such tactics, he reached his goal by winning four of the six holes, evening the margin Mitchell had gained in the first 36 holes of the match.

Goat-getting tactics are common to most other sports, but this is the first time the "keep-your-opponent waiting" ruse has been charged to golf.

BRITT'S STUNT

In the fight game many of our champions, past and present, have done strange things tending to upset their opponent.

Jimmy Britt, one of the greatest fighters of his day, holds all records for keeping rival fighters waiting. Britt had the reputation of never in all his career entering the ring on time.

Every big bout in which Britt engaged was from 10 to 15 minutes.

JACK SILVER WINS
FROM L. A. BOXER

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—A total of 7559 paid admissions netted $14,040 as the total receipts of the open air fight card staged at Ewing field here yesterday afternoon in which Jack Silver severely thrashed Mushy Callahan, to take the Pacific coast lightweight title.

The Los Angeles youth stepped into the ring a 2 to 1 favorite, only to be knocked down by the San Franciscan in the initial round. Silver took nine of the ten rounds.

Neer and Davies
Win Coast Title

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Phil Neer and James Davies, former Stanford University tennis stars, are the Pacific coast doubles champions by virtue of their straight set victory over Ed Woodall and Clarence Barker of Alhambra yesterday. The score was 6-4, 6-2, 6-5.

Neer and Davies formerly held the intercollegiate doubles title. Both outboxing and outslugging his opponent, Callahan made an effort to stage a comeback in the final three rounds, but he came out of the ring a badly battered loser.

FAMOUS BENNIES HELP GIVE
BENNIE OOSTERBAAN

You heard a great deal about that famous "Bennie to Bennie" forward passing combination on the football field last fall. It had much to do with Michigan's phenomenal success in the gridiron sport at the time. Friedman and Oosterbaan—they were big cogs, indeed!

In baseball, during the season just closed, the two Bennies again played a leading part in the Wolverines' advance to the Big Ten title. Friedman cavorted at third in many of the games, while Oosterbaan held down an outfield job. Friedman and Oosterbaan form a great pair and should be heard from again when football activities get under way next fall.

MISS WILLS DENIES ENGAGEMENT STORY

LONDON, July 6.—Helen Wills today denied reports printed in the United States that she is engaged or is to become engaged to marry Fred Moody, the son of a San Francisco family.

"I positively am not engaged to Mr. Moody now and there is no prospect that I will be engaged to him," Miss Wills told the United Press.

The American tennis champion and her mother will sail tomorrow for New York aboard the White Star liner Majestic.

Piping 'Em Off

Yesterday's hero—"Lefty" Grove, who once more held the Yankees' legs in check, letting them down with four hits when the Athletics beat them in the first game of a double header 2 to 1. Philadelphia also won the nightcap, 6 to 3.

Chicago and Pittsburgh divided a double bill; the Pirates won the morning game 4 to 1, but the Cubs took the second, 10 to 1.

The Robins came back after dropping one game, 5 to 4, to the Braves, and hammered out a 14 to 7 victory.

The Phillies knocked off the Giants in both games of a double header, 6-3 and 5-4.

Thomas held the Indians to six hits and shut them out, Chicago taking the second game of a double header 8 to 0. Cleveland won the first 4 to 2.

The Browns twice came from behind to make a clean sweep of the holiday games with the Tigers. The scores were 4 to 3 and 6 to 3.

Johnson and Marberry turned in well pitched games and Washington twice beat the Red Sox. The Senators triumphed, 7 to 4, and 5 to 2.

Donohue bested Rhen in a hurling duel and the Reds beat the Cardinals four to nothing in the first game of a double header. The second game went to the Cards, 7 to 5.

A. A. U. TRACK
TITLE IS WON
BY HOLLYWOOD

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—Champions and records fell in the opening of the A. A. U. championships here yesterday.

The Hollywood Athletic club won the meet with 35 points. The New York Athletic club, second, totaled 32 digits, while the Illinois Athletic club scored 23 points to come in third.

In a steady downpour of rain, Frank Hussey, New York school boy and holder of the national title for the 100 yard dash, was defeated, and Charles Borah, Hollywood, Calif., crowned. The time was 94.5 seconds.

"Bud" Houser, Olympic, national and intercollegiate shotput champion; George Guthrie, high hurdler; Harry Smith, vault, and Jackson Scholz, Olympic and national sprint champion, all were defeated. The French, Finnish, Swedish and other foreign champions also failed to show to advantage.

The new champions include Leighton Dye, Hollywood, 120 high hurdles; Paul Harrington, Notre Dame, pole vault; George Sharkey, Miami University, 220 yard dash, and Herbert Schwarze, Wisconsin, shotput. Dye made a record of 14 4/5 seconds and new marks were set for the three mile walk, broad jump, javelin and discus.

Seven champions retained their honors. They were: Harold Osborne, high jump; Harry Hinkle, three mile walk; De Hart Hubbard, broad jump; H. Morgan Taylor, 440 yard hurdles; Houser, discus, and Matt McGrath, hammer throw.

CITY INDOOR LEAGUE TEAMS
BEGIN LAST FOUR WEEKS OF PENNANT CAMPAIGN TONIGHT

Teams in the Santa Ana City Indoor Baseball league enter the home stretch of their 14-week battle for supremacy at Lincoln park this week and, while the championship lies between three clubs, the unsuccessful "also rans" may have considerable to say just how the entries will stand in the final averages. The race has but four more weeks to run.

The Fluor Construction company, for instance, has no chance for the pennant but it may have cost Lee's Fountain the crown when it lowered the Soda-Jerkers' colors last week and reduced them from a tie for first place to third position.

As a result of that contest, the F. C. Blauer grocery and the Tienan Typewriter company now have the top place to themselves. The Lees are next and then come four squads, all knotted for fourth rank.

This week's crucial attraction will be played Thursday night when the dangerous Fluors lock horns with the scrappy Tienans in the first game of a double header. This match was scheduled for last night but because of the holiday date, American Legion Athletic club officials postponed it until later in the week. The second half of the Thursday twin bill will be furnished by the Arnold Peek market and Excelsior Creamery company aggregations.

The Fluor-Tienan tiff is sure to be a "hot" spot and one that will attract a flock of indoor baseball lovers. Lloyd Johnson, the Constructionists' mound ace, is now in his last year's form and he will be a capable opponent for Gene Hitt, the Tienans' new pitching sensation.

Tonight's offering will be between the F. C. Blauers and the Southern Counties Gas company. "Benn" Wilcox, the local league's lone undefeated moundsman, will go after his sixth straight victory in this affair. Wilcox now ranks as the circuit's leading twirler since Jimmy Mansfield was trounced by the Fluors. Wayne Nelson will probably leave for the gas company although Bill Christenson or Lyle Richards may draw the assignment.

Earl Jones, not at all discouraged by his team's unexpected humiliation last week, will lead Lee's Fountain against the O'Donnell Motors crew tomorrow evening. The Soda-Jerkers, of course, are picked to capture this affair but the O'Donnells have been playing improved baseball recently and may make things more than interesting for Mansfield, Jones and company.

Smith and Lacy Eliminated
In Semi-Finals; Carden
Wins in Second Flight

F. E. (Ed) Farnsworth and Hugh Smith, both veteran exponents of the Royal and Ancient game, will meet in the final round this week for the golf championship of the Santa Ana Country club.

Farnsworth triumphed over Mark E. Lacy, 3 and 2, and Smith defeated Hugh Shields, 3 and 1, to work their way into the last bracket of the tournament which began with 32 of the premier players in the club in the championship flight.

A date for the Farnsworth-Smith contest has not been definitely set today but it is probable that the experts will hook up Saturday.

Winners of three out of the five flights were decided in matches over the local course during the past week-end.

Lester L. Carden defeated Joe Parsons, 3 and 2, to grab titular honors in the second flight while A. J. Crookshank was a 5 and 4 winner over J. W. Law to get championship rating in the third flight. Don Andrews conquered Dr. C. R. Lane, 2 and 2, and won the fourth flight.

Dean Collier trounced R. D. Crenshaw, 5 and 4, and won his way into the finals of the Defeated 16 flight, in which players eliminated in the opening round of the championship block were grouped. The other semi-final match in this flight will find Z. B. West Jr. and C. H. Way as opponents, the winner to meet Collier for the Defeated 15 crown.

Ball swastakes winners in play last Saturday were M. B. Lacy and Z. B. West Jr., who finished four down to par and Lew Wallace, F. L. Purinton, F. E. Farnsworth, Fred Parsons and O. A. Jacobs, who were five down to par.

E. T. Mateer and Charles Claytor tied in the July 4 morning swastakes, both with net 73's. E. Holmes and Lester Slaback were next with net 74's. Afternoon, however went to Ed Holmes, who was even to par. Lacy was one down to par to be second and Mateer, Purinton, Wallace and Farnsworth were tied for third, all five down to par.

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA—

—BY REDNER

It was just before sunrise on Sept. 6, 1862, that the advance guard of Lee's army, under Stonewall Jackson, came down the Bentztown road. For quite a distance before the vast lines of gray reached the bridge, the army was visible from an attic window on the west side of Barbara's home. Barbara was wide awake.

As General Jackson clattered across the bridge, and passed Barbara's home, she thrust her flag from the window.

A few shots spattered against the side of Barbara's house, bullets sent by soldiers in the overzealousness of the advance.

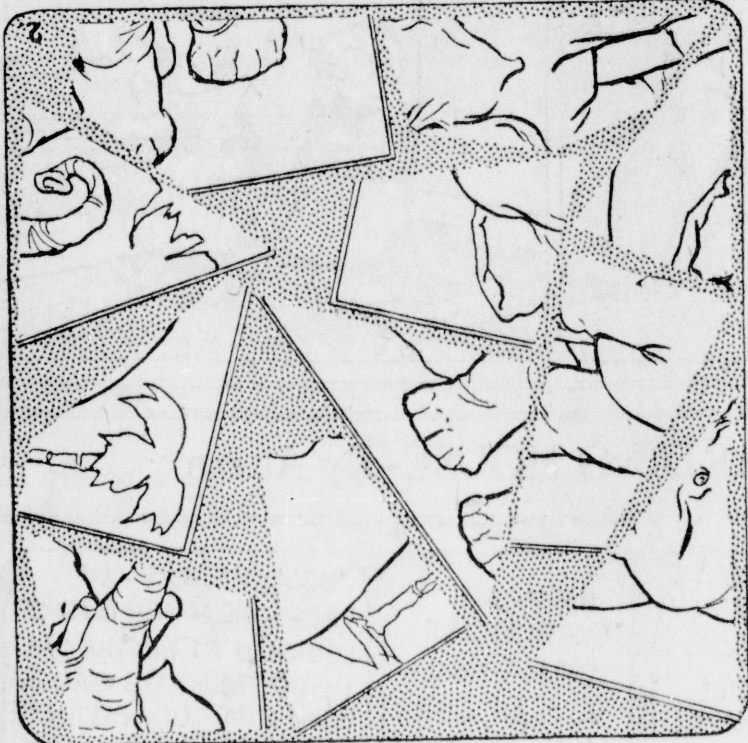

It was then that Jackson issued the gallant order which Whittier immortalized as "Who touches a hair on yon gray head dies like a dog, march on." Two days later Lee's army moved west, and the Unionist advance under General Reno entered the streets of Frederick. Reno hailed her as "the spirit of '76." Barbara died Dec. 18, 1862, aged 95 years.

Queer Quirks of

Fishes Have Enemies Besides Hawks

BY ARTHUR N. PACK
President, The American Nature Association

Fishes have enemies besides the obvious ones like the fish hawk and the angler, and of these none is more deadly and insidious than the fungus disease which sometimes attacks and eventually kills them.

It manifests itself by tiny white specks on the head or body or sometimes on the tail or fins, and rapidly extends over the entire surface and penetrates the tissues.

The remedy most readily applied by the aquarist is a solution of salt water which often arrests and overcomes the disease.

Handling fish with dry hands has a tendency to cause the removal of some of the slime, and so renders the fish liable to the attack of the fungus.

In most states fish below a certain size cannot be legally caught, and if taken by mistake they must be returned to the water. In such cases, wetting the hands before touching the fish will improve its chances for survival after being released.

BY SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Stewed prunes, cereal, thin cream, scrambled eggs with bacon, crisp whole wheat toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Chicken and spinach soup, croutons, open tomato and lettuce sandwiches, caramel cookies, milk, tea.

Dinner—Broiled lamb chops, baked potatoes, creamed peas, new cabbage salad, raspberry shortcake, graham bread, milk, coffee.

This luncheon soup uses a stock made from the preceding dinner. Such a stock is known as "second stock" and while lacking in the strength of the first stock it gives flavor to a soup.

Chicken and Spinach Soup
One pound spinach, 4 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, 4 cups hot chicken stock, 4 tablespoons whipped cream, 1 tablespoon minced parsley.

Wash spinach through several waters. Put into a sauce pan with butter and cover closely. Place over a low fire until wilted. Cook in juice and butter until tender, about ten minutes for young spinach. Combine salt, pepper, flour and sugar and stir into spinach. Cook, stirring constantly with a fork, for five minutes. Rub through a colander and add to chicken stock. Bring to the boiling point, stirring constantly. Serve in bouillon cups topped with a spoonful of whipped cream lightly seasoned with salt and sprinkled with parsley.

The chicken stock is made by covering chicken bones with cold water, bringing slowly to the boiling point and simmering below the boiling point for 40 minutes.

Recipes Easy to Make on Hot Days and Always Liked

BY SISTER MARY

There's a deep appeal to big or little boys and girls about a cookie crock that never seems to have a bottom. Even the most helpless man in the kitchen just naturally finds his way to the cookie crock and many a glass of milk has disappeared uncomplainingly when accompanied by a cookie.

Cookies can always fill in as a dessert and a cup of tea or glass of lemonade seems twice as sociable if a plate of cookies is on the tea table.

However nobody wants to spend hours in a hot kitchen rolling and cutting and baking, so here are some recipes for over-night and drop cookies.

Nut Drop Cookies

One and one-half cups light brown sugar, 1-2 cup butter, 2 eggs, 3 tablespoons cream, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup finely chopped nuts, 2-3 cups pastry flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder.

Cream butter and sugar. Beat eggs until light. Add with cream to first mixture. Stir in nuts and vanilla. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder and stir into mixture. Drop from teaspoon onto oiled and floured cookie sheet and bake 15 minutes in a hot oven. Four hundred and twenty-five degrees Fahrenheit is a good temperature if you bake with a thermometer.

Hermits

Two cups light brown sugar, 2-3 cup butter, 3 eggs, 1-2 cup sweet milk, 4 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg, ginger and allspice, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1 cup seeded and chopped raisins.

Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs beaten until light with milk. Mix and sift flour, salt, spices, baking powder and soda. Add with raisins to first mixture. Mix thoroughly and drop from teaspoon onto oiled and floured cookie sheet. Bake 12 to 15 minutes in hot oven.

Butterscotch Cookies

One cup butter, 4 cups light brown sugar, 4 eggs, 1 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 teaspoon salt.

Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs beaten until light. Mix and sift flour, salt, cream of tartar and soda. Add with vanilla to first mixture. Mix well and form into roll. Chill over night and cut in thin slices. Bake eight minutes in a hot oven. Chopped nuts can be sprinkled over caramel or butterscotch cookies before baking. When nuts are added to the dough it's not quite as easy to slice.

BEAUTY CHATS

BY EDNA KEN FORBES

If you are going in for the short bob, that is, the shingle or the Eton crop, you must be prepared to go to the hairdresser's and have it trimmed at least once a month, and preferably once in three weeks. Don't try to trim your hair yourself, for you can't possibly do it, and don't let any well meaning friend try to do it for you. The result is sure to be ragged bits and ugly short patches that will take two months to grow out so that a barber can trim them properly.

If you have thick fluffy hair that curls under or that can be made to curl under, you can trim it sufficiently well yourself so you need not have it done professionally more than once in two months, for the irregular edges will twist under and not show. Here are a few suggestions about trimming the hair that you may find useful if you are courageous enough to try doing it at home.

You can clip off the short hairs that grow down the back of the neck by laying the scissors flat against the skin and cutting; the bevel on the blade protects the skin so that you would have to be very awkward indeed to cut yourself. If you keep the neck clear of these short hairs it will add much to the neatness of your appearance.

If you wear a fringe in front you can trim it yourself by first wetting the hair and then combing it straight down over the forehead and cutting it while it is wet. If it has a tendency to slip tie a piece of tape around it, that is around the head, to hold the hair flat against the forehead.

If you do want to try to shorten or thin your hair yourself so as to make it a better shape the professional way is to comb the hair backwards which roughs and tangles it slightly, and then "clip an inch or so from the ends, combing out the tangles afterwards.

K. and Flossie.—Unless your vision is normal you should not discard your glasses. You may think that your eyes will be better looking without the glasses, but they will not be if you need them, they will appear weak and strained, while now you say they are admired even though you are wearing the glasses.

Keep your hair neatly trimmed

Jane.—Use very cold water or ice after cleansing your skin to contract the enlarging pores. There is nothing better for bleaching the superfluous hair than ammonia and peroxide.

Trinkets of love and service let us bring
As proof, once more, of our remembering.

May countless ages celebrate your birth!

Gifts from the market place you do ask,
Better were courage for the dreary task.

Faith for the doubtful hours and heedless ears
When'er the mad destructionist appears.
Strength for the tempests and devotion true—
These are the gifts we'd pledge and bring to you.

Oh, blessed country! Bountiful and kind!
May all your children ever keep in mind
Your lofty purpose. Down life's winding way
May no false beacons tempt their feet to stray.

May all who share the splendor of your fame
By noble living glorify your name.

NEWS FROM ORANGE COUNTY TOWNS

WILDCAT WELL AT H. B. READY FOR OIL TEST

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 6.—A definite test of what the west end of Huntington Beach may be expected to furnish in the form of crude oil is expected to occur this week, with the testing of the Wilshire oil company's well, the first project in the new field. At approximately 3000 feet, the Wilshire is said to have penetrated a good body of oil sand, and the crew is now trying the well out to see what it will do.

Considerable encouragement was given operators and property owners in the west-end area when the Wilshire well began to show life Friday morning. The crew had drilled out the plug and was preparing for a water shut-off test, when the well began heaving rotary mud over the top of the casing and occasionally shooting up into the derrick.

This continued for several hours, expelling most of the drilling mud, and considerable formation mud, and showing oil and gas in encouraging quantities. The crew immediately killed the well and started to run tubing for a real test.

The depth at which Wilshire picked up the sand corresponds with the Ashton zone in the old field, which geologists believe extends into the new district. If that is the case there is a good prospect that deeper and probably better oil horizons will be found below the present sand.

The Superior Oil company has drilled its test well to about 2600 feet but will probably have to go to about the same depth as the Wilshire project before anything can be expected in the way of showings.

100 WOODMEN TO PICNIC AT H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 6.—This city is rapidly becoming a popular place for beach and picnic parties. Two large picnic groups will be here next Saturday. Last Friday three groups were here.

Young people of the Methodist church, Santa Ana, enjoyed a beach party here Friday evening. More than 50 of the young people enjoyed a dip in the local plunge before joining others on the sand. A large group of employees of the Speed and Service Truck company, of Brea, and a large group of Newport Beach people also enjoyed a picnic party Friday night, according to reports from the plunge.

Two large picnic groups are scheduled for Saturday, according to a city official. Woodmen of the World of Watts, Bell, Norwalk, Anaheim, Fullerton and Santa Ana will hold their annual picnic Saturday evening. It is expected that more than 100 Woodmen will be present at the picnic. City officials at Huntington Beach have provided tables and other accommodations for the picnickers.

Municipal employees of Monrovia will hold their annual picnic July 10, according to advices received from Monrovia. More than 150 city employees will attend the picnic, it is reported. The Monrovia employees will gather at the beach for a noon luncheon and will enjoy swimming and beach games during the afternoon.

263-Pound Bass Hooked at H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 6.—A huge black bass was landed from the Huntington Beach fishing barge Saturday, when R. Smith, of Los Angeles, hooked a 263-pound fish. The large bass is the second to be landed from the barge since it was anchored off the Huntington Beach pier. The first fish was reported to weigh about 245 pounds and was caught about two weeks ago.

RESCUES FRIEND

Tony Cockins, 10, who Saturday saved Walter Hill, 12, from drowning at Laguna Beach.

LAGUNA BEACH, July 6.—Laguna Beach residents and visitors are talking of making application for a medal for Samuel Cockins, Tony to his friends. This 10-year-old son of W. W. Cockins, wealthy rancher of Riverside, rescued a 12-year-old companion from drowning off the Laguna Beach shore line Saturday afternoon, when he held the older boy afloat for 15 minutes while a life line was being procured and carried out to them.

Tony and Walter Hill, 12, son of Principal Hill of the Shaftey union high school, Ontario, who has a summer home here, went out to swim with a blown up tire tube for a safeguard. While they were playing, the tube drifted away from them. Young Hill was seized with cramps and tried to make for the tube. He couldn't reach it and called to Tony for help. The tube was far away and Tony saw such a look of distress on the face of his companion that he went to his rescue. He called for help and then got a hold that the other couldn't begin to swim slowly with his legs.

In the meantime, his shouts had been heard on shore and men rushed for the chamber of commerce life buoy several blocks away. Before this was procured and the line had been carried out to the boys, 15 minutes had elapsed. Tony was not excited in the least. From the water he could see his father on the bluff and he called out:

"I'm all right, daddy, don't worry about me."

After young Hill had been given a hold on the buoy and strong hands were pulling it toward shore, Tony disdained any help and swam in alone, catching the buoy for a ride through the breakers.

Tony Derkum, who had just launched a new boat, was notified, but the rescue had been made before he got there. Derkum's boat will help keep the waters safe this summer.

Aviation Firm Plans Expansion

BREA, July 6.—The Brea Motor and Airplane Manufacturing company, headed by W. D. Tremaine and Albert Thaheld, has made application for incorporation papers and in the meantime is going ahead with the work of the company, that of building and repairing airplane motors and parts. Just now Tremaine and Thaheld have a contract to build a set of wings for Al Ebricht, of the Long Beach Aero club, who will use the plane between Little Lake and Menachite Meadows for carrying passengers.

At present, the only way of reaching the last named place, which is a wonderful hunting, fishing and camping ground, is by pack train. Ebricht proposes to carry two passengers and 150 pounds of baggage and make the trip in 25 minutes.

The company is to conduct its business in the building owned by W. D. Tremaine and used by him until recently for the Tremaine business.

Sunday School To Buy Equipment

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 6.—New equipment will soon grace the Sunday school room of the girls' class, taught by Mrs. J. G. Hurst of the Christian church. The 25 girls staged an ice cream social at the church recently and cleared $25, which will be used to purchase some much needed equipment.

Miss Mildred Payne was chairman of the general committee in charge of the ice cream social. The girls' class has held several clever socials during the past few weeks and has added a number of new things to the class rooms.

LOST INDIAN VILLAGE WILL BE EXCAVATED

ANAHEIM, July 6.—Work of thoroughly exploring the Indian village which Milton McMillan, Anaheim geologist and collector, claims to have discovered on the rim of the Mojave desert when attracted to the spot last May by bees swarming in a mountain-side crevice, is to be undertaken this fall by the Museum of the American Indian, New York City, it was learned here today.

News of Mr. McMillan's discovery and pictures of the unique replica he brought back with him from an Indian cave came to the attention of George G. Hays, founder of the Hays Foundation, who chanced to be stopping in Los Angeles at the time. He visited the Anaheim geologist at once and after inspecting the relics, made a handsome offer for full rights of developing the "find." Mr. McMillan said this morning.

The offer, though at first refused by Mr. McMillan on the grounds that he wished to secure what relics might be obtained for his own collection, was later accepted, when it was pointed out that, if placed in the hands of the foundation, the relics and their historical significance would be available to everyone interested in such matters.

Another distinguished archeologist who has visited Mr. McMillan here since the announcement of his discovery is M. Raymond Harrington, field representative of the American Indian Foundation, who has just recently completed excavations along the banks of the Muddy river in Nevada, that have laid bare the remains of a prehistoric community shown as the "Lost City of Nevada."

With cooler weather this fall, Mr. Harrington is expected to be placed in charge of similar excavation work at the site of Mr. McMillan's buried village, and discoveries are expected that will prove of inestimable historical value.

Included among the relics which Mr. McMillan brought from the mountain crevice, are an earthenware vase, hermetically sealed and filled to the brim with a large variety of seeds; a human bone and a unique "sewing needle" of spear-point, fashioned, it is thought, out of a branch of mesquite bush.

Blasting of the crevice in an effort to unearth a deposit of honey thought to have been concealed there by bees found swarming about the entrance brought the relics to light. The intense heat of the desert summer has prevented any further exploration work in the crevice, Mr. McMillan said this morning.

Shell Test Well Down 1600 Feet

BREA, July 6.—The Shell company is drilling ahead at below 1600 feet in its deep test well on the Columbia lease in the Brea-Olinda fields, according to official reports. The well set a string of surface pipe at 1529 feet.

In drilling this well the Shell is attempting to establish definitely the possible oil in reserve below the present producing horizons in this field. Most of Brea-Olinda's production at present is found at depths above 3250 feet, but there is general belief among geologists, confirmed by showings at about 4500 feet in several wells, that a prolific zone is to be found below the present producing zone. Other wells have found the deeper sands, but so far none has been able to get an effective water shut-off.

The Rev. Hunt, who was acting pastor of the Christian church in Fullerton from the time of Walter Thornton's resignation until the coming of the Rev. Frank Tinsley, has served as a missionary in China for many years. The new pastor and his family will occupy the parsonage property on West Ash street.

RECORD CROWDS REPORTED AT COUNTY BEACH TOWNS DURING HOLIDAY PERIOD

Crowds unequalled in the history of the county yesterday thronged Orange county beaches, according to reports. From Seal Beach on the west to the long stretches of sand south of San Juan Capistrano beach, the ocean front was packed with vacationists.

The holiday period was outstanding in that not one drowning was reported. Few traffic accidents were reported.

Special entertainment features were given at all Orange county beach towns. At Huntington Beach, a three-day celebration was held, ending last night with an elaborate fireworks display.

At Newport Beach, two destroyers were anchored, the U. S. S. Mullany and the U. S. S. Robert Smith. Special attractions were offered on the bay and a fireworks exhibit was presented.

Laguna Beach celebrated the holiday in a fitting manner, when the new coast highway was thrown open to traffic for the first time. The road was scheduled to be opened July 10. More than 5000 machines were reported to have traveled over the road yesterday. An elaborate fireworks display brought the holiday to a close at Laguna Beach.

Seal Beach, Sunset Beach, Anaheim Landing and other beach communities presented special attractions.

Accommodations in all towns along the coast were taken several days ago and camp grounds in every city were crowded to capacity. Hundreds of people pitched their tents on the sand between the various towns.

CITY FUND IN ORANGE SHOWS GOOD INCREASE

ORANGE, July 6.—Financial reports to the city trustees today at the regular monthly meeting of the board showed the city of Orange to be more than $4000 ahead of the sum with which it started out July 1, 1925. This despite the fact that a tax cut was made during the year. The cut reduced the revenue from $165 to $160 on each $100 assessed valuation. Orange has $65,079.58 on hand to start the new fiscal year with, as against $61,141.62 last July.

Money in the city funds at present is sufficient to run the city's business until the taxes for 1926-1927 begin coming in in October. The balance are as follows: general fund, $18,991.93; water fund, $6,081.14; police fund, $6,725.02; street fund, $7,524.14; advertising, $220.36; fire fund, $411.40.

Bond issues of the city will be taken care of both in principal and interest by the money now in the city treasury.

The bids are returnable August 3 at 7 p. m. at the office of the district engineer. Four alternative bids are offered and the engineer's estimate is that the average will be about $240,000. EIGHT CONCERTS PLANNED BY BAND

ORANGE, July 6.—Music by the newly organized municipal band of Orange under the direction of Professor Franz Salbach will emanate from the vicinity of the plaza Thursday evening, when the 25-piece musical aggregation plays its first public concert.

A temporary band stand will be erected by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association to accommodate the band members.

The program is scheduled to commence at 7:30 o'clock and will consist of the following numbers: "Military March," Schubert; "Heather Rose," Lang; "Aida March," Verdi; "Forsaken," Koschat; selection from "Faust," Kreutzer; "Shepherd Song," Wagner; "Berceuse," Godard; "Poet and Peasant," Suppe; "Star Spangled Banner," Francis Scott Key.

Because of the length of the program no encores will be rendered, stated Salbach today.

Salbach hoped to be able to put on a concert every week during the summer. If he is granted an appropriation of $75 per concert for eight weeks by the board of trustees, he will continue the entertainments, he stated.

At a former meeting of the board, favorable sentiment was expressed by members when the proposition was presented for discussion.

EVENING SALUTATION

Have you found your life distasteful?
My life did, and does, smack sweet.
Was your youth of pleasure wasteful?
Mine I saved and hold complete.
Do your joys with age diminish?
When mine fail me, I'll complain.
Must in death your daylight finish?
My sun sets to rise again.

—Robert Browning.

THE SMOKER BEWARE!

All Orange county is vitally interested in preventing the burning of grass, brush and trees of the Santa Ana mountains, and therefore will encourage the vigorous enforcement of the state law prohibiting smoking in the national forest and the law making it a misdemeanor to throw cigar or cigarette stubs or burning matches from an automobile traversing any grassy or brushy lands.

As a practical suggestion to automobile drivers who smoke, it is proposed that he equip his automobile with a receptacle of some kind into which he can throw his stubs and matches. The tossing away of a stub is a matter of habit. A man absorbed in conversation, in disposing of it will follow his usual custom, established by habit. If it is his habit to throw it out of the machine, he will likely throw it even though at that second he may be passing along a narrow road lined with deep dry grass. If it is his habit to put all stubs into a receptacle, he will not be caught under the state law which makes it a misdemeanor to throw lighted stubs or matches from an automobile or other vehicle where there is any danger of fire.

Every smoker who expects ever to go into any foothill or mountainous country should inform himself of the law.

He may smoke while passing through private property, but if he does smoke he must see to it that the stubs of his "smokes" are disposed of safely.

While on federal forest lands, he need not give up smoking entirely, but he should remember that there are only two places where he can legally smoke, at a public camp ground and at a place of habitation.

SPANISH-AMERICAN LOYALTY

A Spanish writer named Miguel de Maetzu arrived in Buenos Ayres recently with the announcement that he came on an official mission to promote a league of South and Central American nations for the purpose of closer relations with Spain.

Today, he said, Spain is "the spokesman of Latin-America in Europe."

There has been at least a tendency in that direction lately. During the World war the Latin-American countries nearly all followed the lead of the United States, but latterly they show signs of drifting away. If they cast loose from Uncle Sam, it would not be unnatural for them to drift back to closer understanding with Spain, the mother-land of all our Latin-American neighbors except Brazil.

This need not happen, however. The next day after the announcement of this Spanish mission was made, the Pan-American congress at Panama adopted a resolution favoring an "American League of Nations," and agreed to hold a future conference to work out a constitution for it. The congress will probably meet in this country. The Panama government will take the initiative, and the Pan-American Union will be expected to co-operate.

This proposal should be of great interest to Americans. It was expected when the Pan-American Union was organized that it would lead ultimately to some sort of loose federation or league, and the World war strengthened that feeling.

Under whatever name, and with whatever form of organization, it seems clear that there should be real unity among the republican nations of this western hemisphere, with the United States in position to exert a moral leadership, especially if this country is to remain permanently outside of the Geneva league.

Now that the Turks have discarded the fez for the straw hat, what's a poor Shriner going to do?

COTTON GROWING GROWS

This newspaper has taken frequent occasion to call attention to the gigantic strides made by the cotton growing industry of California. It need occasion no surprise if, in a very short time, California will lead all the other states in the union in the production of cotton.

Production of cotton increased 58 per cent in 1925, until the crop is now over 58,000,000 pounds. The harvested area has increased 33 per cent.

Kern county has crowded Imperial county out of first place in the California list of cotton producing counties. The cotton production of Riverside county may soon exceed the value of its citrus fruit crop. All through the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys cotton is no longer an experiment.

In Central California the cotton crop is regarded as only in its infancy. Next year will see larger acreages in various counties. It is interesting to note that in California the average yield of cotton is 340 pounds to the acre, while, for the country at large the average yield is 167.2 pounds to the acre, or less than half that of California.

At the present rate of increase in the matter of production it may be an exaggeration to say that in a few years in California, "Cotton is King," but it will surely rank as crown prince.

For a continent that doesn't love America, Europe is very tolerant of our offensively wealthy tourists.

A REMARKABLE MAN

The recent death of Sanford B. Dole, who led the forces in opposition to the Hawaiian monarchy, and who was the first president of the short-lived island republic, and subsequently the first territorial governor of Hawaii after annexation, recalls the stirring times which brought him into notoriety. Probably the most notable incident of his notable career was his defiance of the order of Grover Cleveland, then President of the United States, that he should relinquish to Queen Lilioukalani her constitutional authority. Acting in behalf of the government de facto President Dole flatly refused. Washington evidently considered his attitude as warranted, for no attempt was made to enforce the order.

In 1900, and under another administration at Washington, annexation to the United States was accomplished and Dole became territorial governor. The islands have been peaceful and prosperous to a degree ever since annexation, and to Dole must be ascribed the credit of seeing what was best for Hawaii and its people.

Maybe the reason the tenth or fifteenth child so often succeeds in life is that parents by that time have got tired of bossing the life out of the children.

Would Be Big Gamble

The "California Water and Power Act" is a proposal to empower a group of men, constituting an independent board, to create and sell bonds to the extent of a half billion dollars to carry on projects whose validity they shall themselves determine.

This small group of men can mark out a "project." They can arrive at the conclusion that the project is sound and will be able to return to the state the amount of money poured into it. They can carry it on.

The Half Billion Dollars is not a single fund, but a revolving, perpetual fund. As any of this half billion is paid back, from any projects, it can be reinvested in new projects.

Here is the remarkable financial and political machine set up. Think of what it would mean! Think what it would mean, in the hands of any group of men anxious for political favor, in any part of the state! Think of it in the hands of the present state administration, or of the past state administration which it displaced, or of a coming administration which may displace it!

Think of giving to a group of some five men, selected by a governor, himself a prospective candidate for reelection, million dollars for Colorado river operations, or to San Francisco for Hetch Hetchy operations, or to Stockton for river improvement, or to Fresno for Pine Flat, or to Kern, or to Tuolumne, or to Sacramento, or to any other part of the state.

Remember that the state board that would handle this half billion dollars could spend it all in one spot, if it saw fit, or parcel it out as it saw fit.

Of course the board would not go crazy. But it would be politically acute. It would have no supervision, in its activities, from either the Legislature or the people at the polls. If this measure passes it becomes "The Big Boss." It would do as it saw fit, according to the political exigencies. It might be extremely conscientious. It might not.

The "California Water and Power Act" is a tremendous gamble, with a half billion dollars as the stake.

It is entirely too risky a way to carry on valid propositions of municipal or district improvement.

When we in the Kings river basin are ready as we are now, for the Pine Flat project, we will be able to finance it. We do not have to begging to any political board for a loan of state credit.

When Los Angeles gets a chance to do something with the Colorado river, it will be able, with the aid of the federal handling of the river, to do all that it should for itself in bringing water across the desert.

If any project in Kern or Sacramento or Tuolumne deserves construction, it can be constructed just as the Exchequer and other enterprises are being constructed now. In theory, the state credit could be handled for a slightly less rate of interest "perhaps." But the risk to the state, of the creation of this political board, is too great a price to pay for this local advantage.

Care That's Worth While

It is possible that within the next half-century the average life-span may be lengthened by 10 or 15 years. This possibility has been pointed out by many physicians and other experts in the care of the body, the latest of whom is Dr. E. W. Macadam of the New York Homeopathic college, speaking before the national convention of physicians of his school. The measures of hygiene and disease prevention already known would be sufficient to accomplish this general increase of the life-span—if people would employ those measures. It now remains to persuade people generally to do so.

Genuinely educational efforts toward this end are to be commended, not simply for their effect upon the average length of life, but because of their effect upon the quality of life as well.

If people would spend in improving their physical condition half the care they spend upon golf, bridge and the like, Dr. Macadam suggests, the effect upon the average life-span would become noticeable within a relatively short time. What is more, however, the effect upon the kind of lives we lead would become even more noticeable. We commonly treat our bodies with a neglect that we would never tolerate toward our other material possessions; and the result is expressed less in broken-down bodies—for our bodies are sturdy mechanisms—than in bodies that function at far below normal efficiency. We live, work, play, without any sensible interruption from ill health; but do none of these things as well as we would if our bodies were in as good condition as our cars.

HELPING YOUTH TO LONG HEALTH
In a previous article it was pointed out that children learn by experience under the watchful care of the parent, and gradually develop powers of independent observation.

Many dangers that are readily seen by the parent do not present themselves to the consciousness of the child, or, if they do, are not clearly perceived and are accepted as dangers "on faith."

The child has difficulty in appreciating the catastrophes that are averted, though they may have been of very grave concern to the parent.

In the same way the adult mind registers no reaction to unperceived dangers. It reacts very feebly to accounts of unperceived dangers averted, unless such accounts are related very vividly. The mind becomes thoroughly aroused however, when the danger is clearly perceived or known to be imminent.

Difficult as the task is, one purpose of these articles is to present to the reader a mental concept of some of the unseen dangers that are constantly almost automatically being averted by the activities of two important co-operative forces of modern society, the medical profession and the department of health.

The one fact that should be impressed upon the minds of the readers of this article today is that the protection afforded them in the averting of these dangers requires consummate skill, adequate training, and eternal vigilance on the part of your public health servants, plus your own co-operation.

Traffic Congestion

San Francisco Chronicle

Congestion of street traffic is a problem faced by all big cities and most smaller ones. It threatens to turn the normal course of municipal development by constricting growth along the lines to which we are accustomed.

Our cities are laid out to fit the requirements of a bygone day. There was no foreseeing what was to come. And if we could start out today and make our cities over, with streets twice or three times or four times as wide as they are now, traffic congestion would catch up with them in time.

In some cities the situation is more acute than in others by reason of topography, bottlenecks, geographical location and nature of industries. In New York traffic congestion is looked upon generally as something peculiar to a city whose heart is a long, narrow island, depending on bridges and ferries for access. In San Francisco we regard traffic congestion as the result of our bottlenecks, by land and by sea. Yet Chicago, built on a level prairie, has a problem as serious as either New York or San Francisco.

The motor car is the cause of traffic congestion. But we cannot forbid the streets to automobiles, because automobiles are essential to present-day conditions. And we cannot get rid of the parking evil by forbidding parking, because that would be merely to decrease the usefulness of the motor car.

Scientific control, such as San Francisco now is approaching through its Committee of Traffic Survey, will bring orderly movement of vehicles and with fewer accidents. But it will not touch the fundamental problem, because traffic is growing and will continue to grow.

In what direction the pressure will force development or what remedies may be devised by man's ingenuity are matters of guesswork. But it is clear that some new line of development is opening under traffic pressure just as surely as economic necessity has directed the progress of man from prehistoric times.

Worth While Verse

THE WINDOW BOX

Though you but own a window box for garden,
And can buy but a pennyworth of seed,
The plot of which the fairies make you warden
May grow sweet dreams indeed.

A thought is sown, perchance not worth a penny,
Till in a neighbor's window-box it sinks,
When for the one he may return you many
Into your own heart's chinks.

Spring hastes alike to covert, copse and casement,
Bright thoughts are cheap, and happy dreams alive,
In third floor back, in garret, or in basement
How scent and beauty thrive!

Then cherish all your mignonettes and phloxes,
Adorn your sills with stately marguerites;
What are our parks but heaven's window boxes
With dreamland-painted seats?

THE RESPONSE CRUEL

A woman took her daughter to a famous singer for lessons. The girl's voice was tried and the mother said: "You see, she has some fine contralto notes, and yet she's obviously a soprano. What do you think she will become?" "An auctioneer."—Tit-Bits, London.

The board of supervisors set July 30 as the time for receiving bids for constructing two bridges, one across the Santa Ana river at West Fifth street, and one across Santiago creek at Tustin avenue.

ON THE SIDE LINES

A Record of Individual and Independent Opinion.

(Which may or may not be in harmony with the views of the Register.)

COME NOW, AND COME EARLY—Several persons, from time to time, have made a free gift to the city of Los Angeles of land for public park purposes. The latest instance of this was the action of a well known Los Angeles realty company in presenting the city with a deed to 12 acres of land valued at $300,000 to be used as a public park.

Come to think of it, any action on similar lines by any one of our citizens would splendidly solve the park problem as it presents itself in Santa Ana. Now, do not crowd, ladies and gentlemen, do not crush. There is still plenty of time, but it is, of course, well to remember that the first persons to come forward with an offer of this kind will be given the preference.

A POPULAR IDEA—A vocal competition is to be staged at Hollywood Bowl by Afro-American churches of Los Angeles and vicinity on July 12th. According to one of the Los Angeles papers, eight Los Angeles churches and one from Santa Monica will enter choirs, which will be required to sing a repertoire of three songs, including N. Clark's interpretation of "Steal Away" and two optional songs. This writer does not know what N. Clark's interpretation of "Steal Away" may be, but the "idea" expressed by the title is surely popular in Los Angeles.

WANTS CAR BACK—Upon his arrival at his home, the other day, a Redding man found that his wife, his brother, and his automobile all had taken their departure. He is extremely anxious for the return of the automobile.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

PROFESSOR R. L. JONES, SUPERINTENDENT OF THE SCHOOLS OF MEMPHIS AND FORMERLY STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION OF TENNESSEE, MADE THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT RELATIVE TO THE STATUS OF THE YOUTH OF THE YOUTH OF THE PRECEDING GENERATION:
Changes wrought by inventions that have changed the economic conditions of the people and modified their social life cannot help but have its influence on the young. The youth of former days lived on the farm and had plenty of work to do. Today the majority of them live in the city with little to do outside of attending school. Work and early responsibility had a steady influence on the youth of the preceding generation.

However, the youth of today is as sound at heart, possesses more wisdom, is better advanced in book learning, though less skilled in manual work, than the preceding generation. If there is any falling down in our social organization, it is due to the breaking down of the home and not to the school, for the discipline in the schools of the country today is better than at any period in the history of the past. The chief conduct problems that the schools meet with grow out of the broken home, where father and mother either live together in constant disagreement or they have separated and left the children robbed of the paternal training and care, which every child is due.

THE CHILDREN OF THE PRESENT GENERATION, IN MY OPINION, TAKEN AS A WHOLE, ARE THE MOST PROMISING BUNCH OF YOUNGSTERS THAT HAVE EVER LIVED ON THE EARTH.

EFFICIENT FIRE WARDEN—When James F. Davidson, postmaster at Fallsville, Ark., decided to come to California he thoughtfully provided himself with four books of blank money orders with a potential value of many thousands of dollars.

And Mr. Davidson proceeded to fill in the orders and obtain the cash therefor, Oklahoma, Los Angeles.

WHO SHALL BLAME HIM?—James D. Phelan, one of the ablest and brightest Democrats of this state and, incidentally, one of the richest men in California, telegraphs from Europe that he absolutely declines to be a candidate for the United States senate.

Phelan has, in all probability, been reading the political news from Pennsylvania and considers the game as too swift for him.

Need of Regulation

Bert M. McConnell in Boston Independent

Commercial flying in the United States has reached the stage where it can be pushed without subsidy, if the government will perform for aviation the services that it performs for navigation. The government has established the transcontinental air mail route to encourage commercial aviation, but a great deal remains to be done. Legislation should now be passed to insure the public against all danger of careless flying, just as there is legislation now for the inspection of boats and the examination of navigators. What we must have, if commercial aviation is to succeed, is a uniform code of the air revised and administered by a federal authority. The United States is the only leading nation of the world now without such a code. There is no government bureau to examine and license pilots, inspect planes and enforce rules of the air calculated to make flying safe and dependable. Who wants to risk his life or his money in a business that is without legal status or control? In 1923, 124 operators of aircraft with fixed bases reported 15 accidents and 12 fatalities and 12 were injured. Approximately the same number of fliers, operating without fixed bases, reported 179 accidents, with 85 fatalities and 126 injured. The Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce is authority for the statement that since the armistice more than three hundred persons have been killed and five hundred injured in flying accidents which could have been prevented had there been in existence a statute regulating the operation of commercial aircraft. This indicates bet-
